Lost Dogs

A dog captures the world's attention by performing a death-defying and heroic act. The incident, caught on surveillance camera in Chile's capital, drives a filmmaker from Oregon to investigate the epidemic problem of Santiago's homeless dog population. Her search uncovers a human stray, raised as a child by street dogs, whose family was, and still is, the dogs. She is about to venture into their world, where the bond between humans and dogs is stronger than ever.
